

Trumpets blaring, broke the silence of pre-dawn morning followed by the rhythmic pounding of boots marching. Another wave of the assault was about to begin against old ruined fort built at the base of Mount Golamira just as the sun was starting to rise over the eastern mountains. Nemedian troops under the command of one of their captains had been attacking all night and all that remained of Conan's garrison were the heroes around him and Belit and a few of her honor guard. They weren't going to stop until the pirate queen was dead.

"Prospero should be here soon," Conan grunted, "but not soon enough for my tastes. But by Crom, we didn't fight all night just to fall now. Fortify our positions and we'll beat these Nemedian dogs back again!" He wiped the sweat from his forehead and intently stared at the last of their fortifications, his blue eyes blazing from beneath his square cut black mane. As much to himself as to anyone else, he added "the bards will sing tales of today one way or the other."

"They have a wizard!" one of Belit's guards yelled down from a broken parapet.

Conan looked over at Hadrathus and grinned at his companion and softly said, "so do we." Conan's sword sang as he ripped it from its scabbard and yelled, "Then go stick an arrow in his black heart before he does something we will regret later."

"But we don't have any bows," protested the guard.

"Then I suggest you find one!" the Cimmerian bellowed. "To arms, let's give these dogs the death they deserve!"

Special rules

Lines of Sight : A character in a wall area has line of sight to each ground area within the fortress walls. An area in a tower and an area outside that tower are within each other's line of sight only if the areas are in or adjacent to the tower.

Leaping from Walls : a character can move across a parapet from a wall area to a ground area as though it were a border. The character rolls  for falling damage. If the character has Leap, the character rolls  instead.

Chests : During setup, the Overlord places X chests on the board as indicated by the setup diagram. The asset deck contains: Battle Axe, Crossbow, Explosive Orb, Leather Armor, and Life Potion

Barricades : The Heroes (including Belit's Guards) may spend 4  to build a barricade with 3 Life points. This may not be passed through or climbed (it can be flown over). A damaged barricade can be repaired at a cost of 1  per Life Point up to a maximum of 3. A maximum of three barricades may be in play at any time. Barricades block line of sight for ranged and spell attacks. Barricades only block areas if a model base can't move past the barricade and a wall or adjacent zone. The starting barricade, with rubble on either side, blocks movement into the fort. Removing rubble or the barricade allows character movement in and out of that area.

Rubble : Rubble  around the ruins in the areas numbered ① ② ③ make an area impassable unless a character has the Climbing skill. With Climbing, it takes 2 additional movement points to move through an area with rubble. Skulthus'

Telekinesis spell can be used to clear the rubble. Additionally, the Overlord can spend 3  to clear rubble if units are in an adjacent space. Rubble does not block line of sight for ranged attacks or spells. Clearing rubble counts as an action so movement after this act requires gems per normal rules but it does not prevent the units from attacking in the same round.

Heroes may spend 3  to put rubble in spaces ① through ④ if they are standing on higher ground.
